Driver of Car To Be Given Hearing Here Today

Charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated, Russell Herman, 22, 342 Taft street, is to be given a hearing this afternoon before Justice of Peace James Laughlin, in the Municipal Building, here.

Herman, according to the police, admits that he was the driver of a car which Saturday night crashed into two trees in front of the residence of Joseph R. Grundy on Radcliffe street, and did not come to a stop until a smashed fender and other damages caused the car to stop in front of the Keene home, about 500 feet away.

The noise of the car as it struck first the two trees and then bumped along the concrete highway until it hit the curb, attracted a large crowd of residents of the vicinity.

The car had to be towed away, and Herman was taken to the police station by Officer Stackhouse, where he was questioned by Chief Jones, and examined by a physician.

The car was considerably damaged.
The accident was investigated by both Chief Jones and Officer Stackhouse.

Vote Flood Control
For Bucks County

Flood control surveys of the Delaware River at Morrisville and Nesham-iny Creek in Bucks county were authorized by Congress in the pre-adjournment rush.

The bill sent to the White House for Presidential approval carried authorization for 38 preliminary flood control surveys, besides authorizing the Secretary of War to spend up to $300-000 a year to remove snags and otherwise clear channels as a flood control measure.

Funds for the surveys in the Delaware River basin are provided in a clause authorizing the War Department to use any money available from flood control appropriations for making examinations and surveys and for preparing reports on flood control projects.

Existing authority of the War Department to exchange Government property for private property needed for such projects is extended under the bill.

EXCAVATION BIG TASK
OF TURNPIKE JOB

Total Excavation for Cuts and Fills Will Be About 21-000,000 Cubic Yards

10,000 FEET LESS CLIMB

HARRISBURG, Aug. 7.—Hills and valleys in the mountainous region through which the Pennsylvania Turnpike line passes are being leveled before the advance of power shovels and other equipment of contractors.

Excavation is the biggest task of the contractors building the 160-mile super-highway between Harrisburg and Pittsburgh. Total excavation for cuts and fills will be about 21,000,000 cubic yards. In addition, approximately 700,000 cubic yards of rock will be taken from the seven tunnels.

By use of cuts, fills and the seven tunnels now being constructed, the Turnpike is enabled to traverse the mountainous country of Central Pennsylvania with 10,000 feet less vertical climb than the parallel routes.
The largest cut on the Turnpike—and in Pennsylvania—will be through Clear Ridge mountain near Everett, Bedford County. It will be 150 feet deep at the crest, 380 feet wide, and 2,600 feet long. More than 1,130,000 cubic yards of earth and rock will be excavated.

Brief description of some of the major cuts and fills on the Turnpike follows:

Next to the Cedar Ridge cut in size will be a cut 106 feet deep and 800 feet long shearing through Mt. Dallas ridge southwest of the town of Everett, Bedford County. The excavation required here will be 1,115,000 cubic yards.

Third largest cut on the line will be near Mount Joy, Westmoreland County. It will be 97 feet deep, and nearly 300 feet wide at the top, with approximately 500,000 cubic yards of excavation to be removed and dumped in nearby fills. Other big cuts in Westmoreland County will include one 50 feet deep and 1760 feet long near Donegal, and another 48 feet deep and 2,600 feet long near Long Hill. A 60-foot fill 1,000 feet long will be made near Jacobs Creek, and a 76-foot fill 2,400 feet long will carry the Turnpike over township route 312, near Mount Joy. Other smaller cuts and fills are scattered along the line in Westmoreland County; but much of the line is near surface elevation.

In Somerset County are some of the largest cuts and fills on the line, including two cuts that replace abandoned South Penn tunnels. An 83-foot cut 1,250 feet long replaces Quemahoning Tunnel and Negro Mt. Tunnel is by-passed on the South by a 67-foot cut 1,500 feet long. The Turnpike enters Somerset County from the east through an 80-foot cut adjacent to a 78-foot fill 1,422 feet long near Three Lick Run, then passes over a 70-foot fill and through a 95-foot cut near Wambaugh Run. The line approaches Allegheny Tunnel by a 60-foot cut, and there will be two other cuts of the same depth, one 1,250 feet long at Laurel Hill Creek, the other 1,700 feet long near the Laurel Hill Tunnel on the Westmoreland-Somerset County line. There will be a 55-foot cut 950 feet long near Clear Run.

Bedford County, where the Turnpike descends into the Juniata River Valley, provides some of the heaviest excavation work on the entire Turnpike route. Near Brush Creek will be a 65-foot cut half a mile long, and nearby another long cut 58 feet deep. Just west of the big Clear Ridge cut will be another cut 50 feet deep and 2,300 feet long. At the village of Earlston will be a 55-foot cut near a 55-foot fill 1,000 feet long. There will be an 80-foot fill 650 feet long on Brush Creek, and two 55-foot fills in East Providence Township. There will be several other cuts and fills in the county more than 40 feet deep.

The deepest cut in Fulton County will be a 35-foot cut 1,200 feet long just west of Tuscarora Tunnel. At Nine Mile Run will be a 47-foot fill, and at Ten Mile Run will be another big fill 42 feet deep.

If you have a house to rent, advertise it in the Courier.

Here and There in Bucks County Towns

LeRoy Scheetz, 25, of No. 212 N.
Hellertown avenue, Quakertown, seeking a ride home from Bethlehem about three o'clock Monday morning, innocently became involved in the flight of the thieves who had left their wounded companion, and sped through Allentown and Bethlehem, eluding a motorcycle cop who pursued them in Bethlehem and then asked Scheetz for directions to the Philadelphia pike when they stopped their auto at the Five Points in Bethlehem.

Scheetz offered to direct them and sat in the front seat with the driver.
Another man was lying in the back seat believed to have been wounded by the Allentown officers.

The bandit car failed to negotiate the turn on Route 309 at Center Valley, went into a field and rolled over.
Scheetz said he was thrown from the machine, which righted itself in the field. The two men crawled from the wrecked car and ran down the field and on to the pike.

Scheetz was picked up by State Motor Policeman Paul Usher, of the Bethlehem barracks, who was returning to the barracks from a day's leave.
He took Scheetz to St. Luke's Hospital, where it was found he had suffered possible chest injuries and a laceration of the ear.

The wrecked auto belonged to Frank Freeman, Philadelphia, and is said to have been stolen.

Ernest W. Pade, of Sellersville, who for two years has been acquiring nation-wide mention for his prowess as a small bore rifleman, on Sunday afternoon was presented with the Frank Hoppe Cup, emblematic of the State Smallbore Rifle Championship.

For two days Pade lay prone and fired 200 shots at 50 and 100 yards on Indiantown Gap's fine national guard camp outdoor range, starting Saturday. Out of a possible 2000 points, he dropped but 16, which means he shot mostly all bullseyes in the long drive.

Though the Sellersville man, who is 28 years old and a mechanic at Mack Truck Co., Allentown, won the Pennsylvania title, two other .22 rifle experts were above him in the aggregate scores. He received the big award because it goes only to Pennsylvanians.

Rev. Charles P. Freeman, pastor of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Doylestown, will celebrate the 20th anniversary of his pastorate on Sunday, August 6, with the celebration of the communion service.

The first service will be held at 8.30 a. m., with the Junior Choir assisting. The second service will be held at 11 a. m., with the three vested choirs of the church assisting with the service.

During the 20 years of his pastorate, Rev. Freeman confirmed nearly 400 persons.

He has arranged for a reunion of these classes at the 11 a. m. service.
They will march into the church accompanying the service.

LANDRETHS LOSES EIGHTH
GAME OF THE SEASON

Local Nine Defeats The Black Meicors But Loses To Phila. Irish Stars

A PITCHERS' BATTLE

Saturday afternoon at Landreth Ball Park Landreth nine defeated the Black Meicors of Philadelphia, 9-5, but yesterday afternoon they lost to the Philadelphia Irish Stars, 2-1.

Yesterday's game was an interesting pitching duel between "Bill" Maher formerly of Villa Nova College and this year with Penn A. C. making his debut with the Farmers and "Bill" Kohler for the Stars. Maher pitched the better game of the two. He allowed eight hits, struck out six and walked none, while Kohler allowed six hits, walked five and hit one batsman and retired two on strikes.

Unfortunately for Maher five of the visitors' eight hits were bunched in two innings to give the visitors both their runs. Murphy's single and Sweeney's two base hit accounted for a run in the second inning. This same pair helped the visitors to what proved to be the winning marker in the fourth inning, when Murphy hit deep to left field for two bases and Sweeney and Heavy followed with singles.

The home team's run came in the fifth session. Rossi and Lodge drew base on balls and Broderick drove in the run with a hit.

Carey, batting for Maher in the 9th inning, raised the hopes of the fans for a rally when he singled and was moved to second on Rockhill's sacrifice but Eddie Liberatore lined a drive into the waiting arms of Sproule in centre field and Rossi rolled to Koehler for the final out.

Eddie Debokey's catch of Sproule's short fly in the second inning, Griggs' leaping catch of Kennedy's drive in the seventh and Kennedy's fielding were the features.

In the game Saturday with Black Meicors, Al Carey pitched good ball until the fifth inning allowing the visitors one hit. In the sixth Child's two base hit and Casselli's single allowed a run. Rallying in the next inning Reed singled, Child's hit for two bases and Casselli, Berry and Gour

Rev. Freeman came to Doylestown charge of the congregation on Sunday,

Prof. John Nase, a native of Sellers-ville and a graduate of the Sellersville high school, has been appointed supervising principal of the Iowa State School for the Deaf, the appointment to be effective at the opening of the Fall term.

In his new position Prof. Nase will have charge of fifty teachers as well as two principals. Prof. Nase has been an instructor of the deaf at the Mt.
Airy school, Germantown, for a number of years.

He was graduated from Muhlenberg College in the class of 1931. In 1932 he received his Master's degree at the University of Pennsylvania and is now taking graduate work toward a Doctor's degree at Temple University.

M. Webb, 27-year-old Burlington

While the child-bride—with whom years," Webb told Police Magistrate William P. Young. "I made up my married at Havre-de-Grace, Md., July 3. Mrs. Jobes told the magistrate that Mary had failed to return home Sat-

Why Not Stop It?

(By "The Stroller")

The high school field is rapidly developing into a community center, and upon some occasions as many as three ball games are staged at one time on the ample grounds. The other night there were two games of softball and one baseball game in progress at the same time.

But in spite of this popularity there are some hoodlums who persist in damaging the school property and in occupying the grounds without the proper authority.

These gangs are a constant source of annoyance to the school authorities.

The iron gates of the fence are frequently broken. Locks have been smashed and glass in the windows broken, and now, as a last resort, the school board is having case-hardened chains made with which to fasten the gates.

Why does this damaging of public property persist in a community such as this, where kindness and consideration are shown in permitting the use of the property?

If you were facing sure death from an invisible enemy; if you had to spend your last days imprisoned on a desert oasis, tortured by heat, aggravated by hunger, maddened by uncertainty, how would you act?

GRAND THEATRE

"Naughty But Nice," the new Warner Bros. comedy which opens today at the Grand Theatre, is a hilariously satirical disclosure of some of the skeletons in the closets of the denizens of Tin Pan Alley, both the composers and the publishers.

Since it is about the industry, art or profession of supplying America and most of the rest of the world with popular music, it has a good deal of music as well as comedy in it. In fact, even in the face of the suspicions it may engender about the efforts of some writers of popular songs, two of the best of them, Harry Warren and Johnny Mercer, have supplied it with five new tunes which they are willing to bet will resist analysis by tune detectives.

RITZ THEATRE

The biggest difficulty Henry Fonda faced in portraying "Young Mr. Lincoln" in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of that title, was keeping D-E-S-T-I-N-Y at arm's length.
